

Janeth Selene Ávalos Gómez – ID #7105

Grade: 15th, 3rd year of College

Date of Birth: May 3, 2004

Age: 20 years old

Selene is in third year of Architecture in the Technological Institute of Colima, where she obtained a 9.1 average, thanks to her effort and dedication as a student, and motivation to continue improving day by day.

She is performing community service in activities primarily related to construction, which has strengthened her knowledge and abilities acquired in her degree. This experience brings a valuable opportunity to practice, and accompany her father in his place of work, where she has shared and applied her skills.

During homework clubs she stands out by sharing her creative abilities. An example was her participation in an Altar competition for the Day of the Dead Holiday, where she designed paper flowers and taught the process to her classmates. Her enthusiasm to share her knowledge enriches the club atmosphere and promotes her classmate's creativeness, and shows her commitment and dedication.

Selene stands out for her participation, creativity and leadership in diverse activities organized by Project Amigo. Her contribution has been notable in the life skills workshops, led especially for University scholar recipients, where her capacity to get along with others and innovative focus has enriched these experiences creating a dynamic and collaborative learning environment for her and her classmates.

In the second picture Selene was participating in the second Life Skills Workshop: "Financial Education "Enterprise from my Knowledge" directed to university scholars.
